PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

Versatile leader and lifelong learner with a track record in tech and a decade of growth beyond it. I advanced from associate web developer to associate director (Principal Software Engineer) in just four years, before joining the illustrious team at Verisign. I've led teams, built software, and, over the last 10 years, deepened my expertise in leadership, business, and human behavior. Energized, adaptable, and driven to contribute—whether leading, solving, or learning something entirely new. See References
