PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

I'm a self-taught web developer with nearly 20 continuous years of programming experience and nearly 10 years of experience in technical leadership roles at reputable companies. In just five years, between 2007 and 2011, I advanced from associate web developer to principal software engineer, and was often recognized for my strong, people-first work ethic. Before technology, I worked in real estate (appraisal, sales, and property management), was a barista at Caribou Coffee, and held various other entry-level positions in retail and restaurants. My education, much like my experience, is unusually and usefully broad. I'm returning to work after a significant break. Recent aptitude evaluations note my decision-making ability and fit for managing others. See References
